

BROWSE CATEGORIES

Search for products

6 ITALIAN DESIGNERS YOU NEED TO FOLLOW NOW

Posted by Martina / Italian Design, MADE IN ITALY

We talk a lot about design and Italy here at Krome. But who are the best Italian Designers nowadays? There's so many!

Despite knowing that it would be impossible to talk about all of them in one post, we had a little fun selecting our favourites at present.

HERE IS OUR SELECTION OF THE 6 ITALIAN DESIGNERS YOU NEED TO FOLLOW NOW. ENJOY!

Loft N, London. Design team: SELINA BERTOLA, A. ISIDORI, E. PROKINA © Nomade Architettura

NOMADE ARCHITETTURA

First of our selection, Selina Bertola is the founder of Nomade Architettura and Interior Design, architectural practise based in Milan. While she originally studied architecture in Milan, she then moved to London to attend a master's degree in Interior and Spatial design at the Chelsea College of Art and Design. As much as her wanderlust, work experiences brought her around the world, where she developed a strong interest in different cultures and ways of living.

As a result, today Nomade Architettura is a young and vibrant all-female practise, designing in Italy and abroad.

FOLLOW NOMADE ARCHITETTURA ON INSTAGRAM.

COVER PHOTO © NOMADE ARCHITETTURA

ABOUT MARTINA

Martina is an Italian interior designer living in London.

She was born in sunny Sicily, where she graduated in Engineering, and left to study interior design in Milan. She has worked in the interior design industry for four years in Milan, Beijing and London, working mostly in the hotel, branding and retail design.

She is now based in London and works on A Designer At Heart, her online platform where she shares weekly articles and provides e-design services.

View all posts by Martina